

Knowing your interest in health care matters, I want to share a video I recorded today after a Ways & Means Committee hearing on the impact of ObamaCare on the Medicare program. The Committee heard from CMS Administrator Donald Berwick, who is responsible for administering the Medicare and Medicaid programs and appeared before the House for the first time since his appointment last summer, as well as chief Medicare actuary Rick Foster. The Office of the Actuary monitors Medicare's finances and analyzes the impact of major health care policy changes. Foster has repeatedly refuted claims that ObamaCare will reduce health care costs and issued a report last year warning of its potential negative effects on seniors. According to Foster, 1.2 million seniors will be forced out of their Medicare Advantage plans next year alone because of the new health care law. Foster also testified that cuts in Medicare payments to providers are unsustainable and will threaten seniors' access to high quality health care. Under the new majority, we will finally be able to get the real facts on why we need to repeal ObamaCare as soon as possible and institute meaningful reforms that will fix our system without growing government.
